Re: William E. FANN, M.D.

Dear Nancy,

I am pleased to recommend the promotion of Dr. William Fann from Member to Fellow of the American College of Neuropsychopharmacology. I have known of Ed's work since his early publications with Janowsky and Davis on a wide range of subjects in psychopharmacology. More recently, I have participated in a number of conferences which he has organized and have come to appreciate his skill as an editor and administrator in getting volumes on the psychopathology and treatment of different psychiatric states. I particularly appreciated his volume on gerontopsychiatry.

Ed is a capable researcher, whose work over the past decade has been reliable. He is clearly among the best of the young investigators (to think that one would call someone in their 40's 'young' !) and his contributions are sufficiently well established to recommend him for promotion to Fellowship in the ACNP.

I am pleased to commend his promotion to the College.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry

Fellow, ACNP, CINP
