Dear Lorraine:

The bibliography has been punched on IBM cards and with a little bit of luck, the penultimate will be done this afternoon. As soon as the references are renumbered, the job of reindexing will be done and perhaps we can have the whole job completed in another three weeks.

Some weeks ago, I requested your help in translating a few documents which Dr. Sam Gershon needs for his work. Can you tell me the status of those translations?

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
