

October 10, 1971

Dr. E. W. Gill
Oxford, England

Dear Dr. Gill,

I very much enjoyed your presentation at the Dutch interdisciplinary society meetings. The suggestions that there were many active ingredients of cannabis and the evidence presented was of great interest; as was the data on the variety of contents of the constituents of cannabis from specimens from different parts of the world. As Dr. Freedman mentioned, we are involved in comparing the effects of cannabis in Athens and New York, and your presentation would be of special interest to me and my associates.

May I prevail on you to send us a preprint when such is available?

Many thanks.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry