Dear Mr. Becker,

Last spring, you wrote regarding the publication of a volume on the narcotic antagonists. At that time, I was in transition to a new university and was unable to see how I could find the time to undertake such a mission.

Since then, I have reviewed much of the literature on the narcotic antagonists, and it may be possible to put such a volume together during the next 6 months.

If this is still of interest, please write again.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
