

April 12, 1965

Dr. E. F. Domino, M. D.
Professor of Pharmacology
The University of Michigan
Department of Pharmacology
M6322 Medical Science Building
Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104

Dear Ed:

I have not forgotten your letter of February 16, regarding the role of the acetylcholine in convulsive therapy. I have reviewed this report and it is now being retyped.

However, I think you should know that the Society of Biological Psychiatry will have a symposium on "Anticholinergic Hallucinogens" on Saturday afternoon, May 1, at the New York Hilton Hotel. I am taking the liberty of enclosing the announcement of the panel, in the hope that you may be in New York at that time. I would be pleased to call on you for some comments if you plan to be there, and to stimulate this am enclosing draft copies of two of the manuscripts which I have already received. My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
Professor of Psychiatry

MF:kp