Dear Nat:

What a nice way to begin the new year! First, I received a few copies of Social Casework and was able to show these to the social workers thus increasing my positive relationship with them. Then, today I received the reprints on the Social Class paper.

As I have written to Bob, I consider this one of the more valuable reports that we have written in the past few years. I was quite unhappy that the larger report has not been accepted by a major psychiatric journal. When I saw Bob in New York he indicated that he had received a "rejection". I have written to him asking for a copy of that letter and for his suggestions about the next step. I have not received a reply. I would be grateful if you would call him and see if something can be done to have that report published.

In the meantime, I believe you should send a few copies of this reprint from Social Problems to Milt Greenblatt and Gardner Murphy. If you have some additional copies I would be grateful for a few more.

My best wishes for the New Year.

Sincerely yours,

MISSOURI INSTITUTE OF PSYCHIATRY
