Dear Doctor Wolman,

Thank you very much for inviting me to participate in your handbook for treatment methods of mental disorders.

I regret that I am unable to set aside the time at present to undertake such a summary. Should the financial arrangements for such a participation be significant, I would be glad to recommend one of my associates whom I believe is capable of doing the job. I would hesitate to ask him unless I were able to compensate him for the time involved, since he does have a practice.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
