

July 12, 1965

Dr. Sam Irwin
Professor of Psychiatry
University of Oregon School of Medicine
Portland, Oregon

Dear Sam:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your many courtesies during my visit to your wonderful city. I enjoyed my visit very much, and I hope that the audience was stimulated as much as I was.

It was kind of you to show me the Medical Center. I do hope that the many small problems inherent in moving to a new laboratory are solved quickly for you, and I look forward to hearing of your work.

While we will not be coming West this summer, I told Martha of your invitation, and I would be foolish if I did not use it as a focus for a trip West, hopefully next summer.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry

MF:kp