Dear Frank:

I want to take this opportunity to personally thank you for your participation in the ACNP program last week. You must know that the members came away with a much better appreciation of the role of digital computers in our studies. I liked your system very much and it is clear to me now that it probably has the best potentiality of all those presented.

I look forward to visiting you as soon as I can find an excuse to be in Boston.

My best personal regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
Director
