Dear Dr. Metracos:

Mr. Wali Dad has applied for a position as EEG technician in this Department and has indicated that he is now working in your laboratory. I would be grateful if you would advise me as to his ability as an EEG technician, with specific reference to his ability to assume independent responsibility.

This laboratory is involved not only with the conventional recording of EEG data but with recording on magnetic tape for computer analysis. Do you think that Mr. Dad has sufficient flexibility to be able to learn to handle more complex electronic instruments than the conventional electroencephalograph.

I would be most grateful for your candid opinion.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
