Dear Mr. Kersh:

The Stratton Award of the American Psychopathological Association is an annual determination by the Council of the Association, honoring those active in research in psychopathology. The award is given each year on the occasion of the annual meeting. The next meeting will be on February 13-14, 1970, at the New York Hilton and the subject is "Disorders of Mood and Affect". Non-members are welcome at a $2.00 registration fee.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Secretary
