Dear Ed,

Enclosed is our report, "Ketipramine in the Therapy of Depression in Outpatients". Separately, I am sending case summaries; copies of all forms; the NIMH Biometric Laboratory data analyses and duplicates of their output cards; and the Biodata clinical laboratory outputs.

I regret the delay in completing this study and wish to thank you for your patience and cooperation.

We would like to submit the report for publication in the Journal of New Drugs, if you have no objections. To do so, I would appreciate a list of published references on ketipramine, and as many of the reprints as you may have available, so that the study can be put in the proper context.

Again, my thanks.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
