Dear Czardas,

It was a pleasure working with you once again. While the program in Prague was larger than we both wished, I left with the feeling that the meeting was a successful one. I know that my family enjoyed Prague very much.

You may recall that I discussed my interest in sulphiride. I understand that the compound has a wide range of psychoactive effects in some subjects. The literature is quite confusing and I am writing to ask for any information that you may have available. I would appreciate any pre-prints and reports regarding studies from your laboratories. Also can you tell me who may have carried out clinical studies?

My best personal regards and I hope that on your next visit to the United States you will favor me with a visit.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
