

November 8th, 1972

Senator Harrison Goldin,
1020 Grand Concourse,
Bronx, N.Y. 10451.

Dear Senator Goldin,

It was a pleasure to talk to you this morning, and I am enclosing a summary of the available evidence for the clinical use of the narcotic antagonists in opiate dependence. This report has been submitted to the Marijuana Commission and will be published as part of their report to the President next spring.

Should you wish additional information, we would be pleased to meet with you. The principal center where this work has been done in the New York area is the Metropolitan Hospital Mental Health Center, where there are many patients in different stages of treatment.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
