Dear Jim:

I was reading the latest issue of Look Magazine when I came across your story and suddenly recaptured the few hours that I spent with you. In these unusual times, the report is a commendable one and I wish to take this opportunity to express my admiration for your actions. Good luck in fighting dragons and I hope that I can remember the story when we next have an opportunity to act in so brave a fashion.

My congratulations.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
