Dr. McKeen Cattell, Editor
The Journal of New Drugs
1300 York Avenue
New York, New York 10021

Dear Dr. Cattell:

My associates and I have discussed your letter of November 18. There is no objection on our part to the questions which you posed. While this has not been a regular procedure, we are prepared to request our institutions to participate in the partial discharge of actual publication cost.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
