Dear Sam:

The Society of Biological Psychiatry meeting is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, May 1, at 2:30 P.M.

I would like each of the participants to present their material in 15 to 20 minutes, thus allowing 5 to 10 minutes of discussion for each paper.

I have sent a copy of your paper to Dr. Abood and I am asking him to open the discussions of your report.

I have asked Dr. Wilson to send you a copy of his paper and I would like to ask you to acquaint yourself with his work and to be prepared to open the discussions. I am enclosing a draft which was submitted to the program committee and hope to have a more formal paper before the meeting.

I should like to invite you to join me for lunch at noon on May 1, and will make a more definite time and place at a later date.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
Professor of Psychiatry
