Dear Jerry:

I am delighted that Don has sent you the Chlorpromazine-Procyclidine paper for discussion at the Research Conference in February. I trust that he has told you that this report is now in press so that if you plan to publish the proceedings as you have done heretofore, it would be necessary to indicate that this has already appeared.

My own travel schedules for next year have not yet crystalized, so that I do not know if I can attend the meeting. May I write to you early in January if I am able to join?

My best wishes for a successful meeting, and for the New Year.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
