Dear Phil,

I must ask your indulgence in correcting (for the second time!) the summary and conclusions of our report, "EEG Profile of Oral Doxepin" (IV: 7-21-70). Enclosed are five copies of the revised text which should be substituted for page 13.

The change is occasioned by my doubts that doxepin can be fitted into the 1969 classification scheme, and I am considering further studies to clarify the data. It will allow me some flexibility in the development of this classification.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
