Dear Ray:

I am pleased to enclose a summary of our observations in a preliminary study of the EEG effects of pyrovalerone. In addition, the proposed protocol for continued study and its first modification are submitted for your consideration.

With regard to the costs of the first study, our biggest expenses were in the payment of volunteers and technicians. The Foundation would appreciate reimbursement for these expenditures as suggested in your letter of April 30. The Psychiatric Research Foundation is a non-profit corporation, and has an employer identification number of 43-0785888.

The proposed study will encompass a minimum of twelve and probably fifteen subjects. In order to provide adequate data for analysis, we would anticipate requiring fifty sessions. The direct charges, plus consultation fees for data analysis and the written report bring the cost to $4,000.

Thank you for your past interest and I hope that we can continue this study program.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Executive Director
