Mr. Greg Teas,
Dept. of Pharmacology,
Loyola Medical Center,
2160 S 1st Ave.,
Maywood, Ill. 60153.

Dear Mr. Teas,

I am pleased that my good friend Alex Karczmar thought so well of us; when you see him, please thank him.

This department is quite new and your request has led a number of us to discuss the feasibility of arranging such an elective. At present, you could spend some time in the EEG laboratory learning about computer processing and the methods of evaluating new drugs. Concurrently, I have an active study of narcotic antagonists in opiate dependence at the local VA Hospital.

Rather than agreeing in writing, or trying to discuss this from a distance, is there an opportunity for you to be in this area within the next few months? If so, I would suggest you come and visit and give us an opportunity to discuss a reasonable program. Please note that this is a new department and that it may not fulfill all your expectations by virtue of the fact that we are in an early and rapid growth phase. This should encourage you to visit and make up your mind after you have been here.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
