Dear Iver,

We have finally settled on a publisher for the ECT volume: V.H. Winston & Sons, who have promised to issue a hot-type, hard cover copy by September. In reviewing your contribution, Inhalant Convulsive Therapy, we have made some editorial revisions for matters of uniformity of style.

'Indoklon' has been replaced by flurothyl;

rating scales are listed without capitalization (pg 3); and,

trade names of other compounds replaced by generic or listed in parentheses for identification only.

With these minor changes, I have sent it on to the publisher, and trust that the changes will meet your approval.

My thanks for your contribution.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
