Dear Dr. Preston:

Re: Tybatran Laboratory

I must apologize for not submitting the enclosed data earlier, but the data has been misplaced until this week when I reviewed our fenfluramine data. Enclosed are the additional records of laboratory tests in narcotic addicts assigned to Tybatran treatment. The data filed earlier was that available in patients who sustained treatment. Each of the patients in the present group withdrew from treatment before repeated laboratory tests were completed.

Please add these records to those filed earlier.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
