Dear Mr. Tyk,

The compound referred to in your letter of June 18, 1979 is not yet in trial in the U.S. We are required to undertake extensive clinical trials in hospitalized patients to verify the European claims before the U.S. Government will allow the compound in clinical use - if it is safe and effective. It is not likely that this material will be available in the U.S. before 1982.

Regretfully,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
