

November 28th, 1972

Alexander J. Rosen, Ph.D.
619 W. Armitage Street,
Chicago, Illinois 60614.

Dear Doctor Rosen,

I had the opportunity to read your report, "Psychology 291: Heads, Junkies and Winos," Summer, 1971. It is interesting, particularly in your independent review of the Illinois DAP. It was my recollection that Jaffe and Shuster also carried out studies of the deconditioning model of drug abuse treatment. You omitted reference to this. In your visits, was the cyclazocine program moribund? Is this technique no longer available to the Illinois resident?

Many thanks.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry

MP/ij