Dear Mr. Ravaschieri:

Thank you for your reply to our ad in the New York Times for a Research Assistant. We are interested in your qualifications and would like you to communicate with us further as the time approaches for your military separation, regarding the possibility of a position in our laboratories.

Our research involves the evaluation of changes in brain function associated with pharmacologic agents based on digital-computer EEG analysis, using as subjects, psychiatric patients, narcotic addicts, and normal volunteers. The enclosed reprints will give you an indication of our studies.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
