Dear Dr. Herrmann,

Thank you very much for sending the interesting article on the origin of matter. I have sent it on to my son at Stanford University and he should write to you directly.

I would be pleased to meet with you at your convenience. I do not know when you are returning to the States, but should you travel via New York, please stop for a day. I shall be in my laboratory until October 24 when I am planning another trip to Europe, and will be away for three weeks.

We have had an active summer at the beach, with many visitors and many new experiences for my family. It has been a good experience. Dr. Itil and his family spent a week with us and that was a most enjoyable time.

Please come and visit soon.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
