Dear Dr. Pöpl:

As I indicated at the Kronberg meetings, I very much enjoyed our discussions and your presentation. I have had an opportunity to review your suggestions with my co-worker, Professor Donald Shapiro. I would like to have an opportunity to go over our data processing methods and discuss classification possibilities with you during your next visit to the U. S. We are prepared to make available sets of our data for trials in Europe; or to use the computer facilities here for such tests as you may feel useful.

While we do not have funds for transatlantic travel, we can surely defray all your expenses during the visit to our facility. I would be grateful if you would let me know when next you plan to visit.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
Professor of Psychiatry
