Chairman
Internship Selection Committee

Dear Sir:

Mr. Alan D. Morris was known to me as a Summer Research Trainee in 1968. He participated in our study program of EEG changes with psychoactive drugs in normal volunteers. He became acquainted with the normal human electroencephalogram and developed an appreciation for the subtle changes accompanying threshold drug dosages.

He is an intelligent, cooperative and friendly young man. He made great efforts to accomplish his assignments. He exhibited an enthusiasm for pharmacology and I very much enjoyed discussing his ideas.

Since his freshman year, I have occasionally met him at meetings in the College. He continues to exhibit an enthusiasm in medicine and I would recommend him highly for continued training.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
