

November 21st, 1972

Craig Burrell, M.D.,
Sandoz Pharmaceuticals,
Hanover, New Jersey.

Dear Craig,

I was in the dental chair of my dear, long time friend, Leo Zach, when he began to tell me of his association and work with you. He so captured my attention that his burrowing in my mouth became painless. You are fortunate in having such a sophisticated and critical scientist assist you.

All was well until he suggested there may be some dissonance in our relationship. I was surprised, assuming the lack of contact was related to the lack of problems amenable to my novel techniques, rather than any personal differences. I assured him, that I am unaware of any dissonance.

I trust all is well in Hanover. Since we last met, I have moved my laboratory to the pastures of eastern Long Island, to the new medical school at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. Come visit when next you are travelling east.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry

MF/1j
cc. Dr. Leo Zach