Dear Iver:

In talking to Joyce I indicated that I had not received your corrected galley. I have corrected the duplicate and I am sending you a Xeroxed copy which permits you to check the corrections which I am suggesting. I would be grateful if you would glance at these pages and drop me a line as to whether the suggestions are similar to those made by yourself, as well as any additional comments.

My best regards,

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
