

February 6, 1968

Dr. J. Roubicek
Psychiatric Research Institute
Prague, Czechoslovakia

Dear Dr. Roubicek:

My plans for the trip to Europe this month have crystallized sufficiently for me to give you my itinerary. Because of flight schedules, I will be visiting Istanbul first and plan to arrive in Prague in the afternoon of February 28. Because of the possibility that I may be in Istanbul an extra day, I will cable the exact arrival which will probably be on OK 952 from Vienna at 4:10pm.

Would it be too much of an imposition to have you call one of your local hotels and make reservations for me for 3 nights.

As I wrote originally, I am writing concurrently to Dr. Vojtechovsky in the hope that I can visit with him for part of the time. Any arrangements that you and he can make will, I am sure be agreeable.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry

MF:kp