Dear Norm,

My associates, Drs. Simeon and Spero, and I are agreeable to having the reprints of our report, 'A Comparison of Doxepin and Chlordiazepoxide in the Therapy of Anxiety' distributed to physicians by your professional representatives in the course of their visits to physicians; or in the course of their replies to inquiries. We would request, however, that the article not be used in the usual promotional material or quoted out of context as a general endorsement of this product.

You may, of course, purchase the reprints which you may need,

Many thanks for your cooperation in this study, and I trust that the reprints will be useful to your representatives.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
