Dear Don,

Kathy has typed your recommendations and we are enclosing your original draft and the typescript. I have made two xerox copies which I have given to Dr. Freedman, one of which he intends to share with Dr. Muller.

He had a chance to see this and after an initial reading, was most enthusiastic. (Indeed, he is having lunch with Dr. Muller right now.)

I have reread the typescript, and I also felt that it read very well and that my comments were much too minor to modify this draft. Congratulations!

This is to confirm that you have an appointment with Dr. Slobody and Dr. Freedman on December 20, at 1:00 pm.

On the basis that these official meetings might be through by 5:00 pm, I would like to ask you to have dinner with me and I would like to invite a mathematician, Donald Loveland, to join us. Dr. Loveland has been recommended to us by Gene Laska.

You will be able to make the 11:00 pm flight if you wish, or we can arrange for you to stay over. Please let me know.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
