Gentlemen:

I would like to record temperature changes in man from body surfaces such as the inner thigh or earlobe and orally. The changes will be small and we would like to be able to record them as rapidly as possible. We are equipped with a Grass Model VII polygraph.

May I request your recommendations for the appropriate thermister probe for these applications. We will require two probes for each application and an appropriate telethermometer.

Thank you for your recommendations.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
