Dear Jon:

I plan to be in Washington for the DDC Conference on the Psychophysiology Microthesaurus, June 6-7, 1963. The conference begins at 12:30. By that time I should have much of the information regarding our applications either sent to you, or in sufficient form for me to bring. I should like the opportunity to meet with you and Dr. Cosmides on the morning of June 6. If this is not feasible for you, is there any advantage to meeting with Dr. Cosmides or another member of your staff that morning to help clarify the many questions which already have arisen, and which will arise as we get into preparing these programs with Sam Gershon?

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
Director
