Dear Dick:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your many kindnesses during my recent visit to your center. As this was the first time that I had a chance to see the recording from a patient with implanted electrodes, it was a rewarding experience for me.

I believe you have an extraordinarily good project and a fine set of laboratories in which to work.

Again, my thanks and I hope that I may have the opportunity to show you about our laboratories on one of your visits East.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Dick:

I am embarrassed to write again, because the last time I asked to visit you, I cancelled the trip. With the thousands of other members of the APA, I am planning to come to Los Angeles in May. I would like very much to have an opportunity to visit with you and to see some of the depth recordings that you have made.

I will be in Los Angeles Thursday evening, April 30, and can elect either to attend or not a committee meeting on Friday morning. If you have any time free Friday afternoon, I would be grateful for an hour. If that is not convenient, or if you are planning an experiment Friday morning, I would prefer visiting with you during an actual observation, and can be there as early as you like Friday morning.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
