Dear Al:

While I was surprised at the response to my note, I was grateful for the call from your secretary, for it explained much. I did take the occasion during that weekend to attend the two morning sessions of the Academy of Psychoanalysis, hoping you would be there, and these were unusually good.

During the past few weeks I have had the opportunity to participate in the third year teaching program at Washington University. It has been an exciting experience, for the four students assigned to me for clinical work are bright, enthusiastic, and very demanding. I look forward to each of their sessions, and find that I regret when the two hour period is over.

I will probably next be in New York during the American Psychopathological Association meeting and will take the liberty of calling on you at that time.

My best regards to Roy, and keep well!

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Director
