Dear Dr. Jovanovic,

Enclosed is a copy of my presentation at the recent symposium, "The Nature of Sleep". I regret the delay but I did not return to New York until mid October.

I very much enjoyed the meeting, and want to take this opportunity to congratulate you on a fine meeting, well organized and well run. Most interesting for me, was the occasion to meet many of your co-workers and to realize that in a few years you have created a most productive research group. I look forward to the results of your labors in the scientific press with interest and optimism.

My best regards, and my thanks for your kind invitation.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
