Dear Sid:

I have just received my bill from the APA and the note they recommend that I apply for division membership. It is obvious to me that the Division of Physiological and Comparative Psychology is probably the one closest to my area of interest.

I would be grateful, therefore, if you would include me in your roster, if my qualifications are satisfactory.

By now, you know that I have moved to St. Louis. I am taking the liberty of enclosing a description of our laboratories as I know these may be of interest to you. Please let me take this opportunity to invite you to visit us on your next trip to the Midwest.

My best regards,

Sincerely yours,

MISSOURI INSTITUTE OF PSYCHIATRY

DIVISION AND STATE ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP

In its Annual Report for 1962, the Policy and Planning Board has again emphasized the importance of division membership and, in addition, has asked the Central Office to provide information about joining state associations as well.

Division Membership. Listed on the reverse side of this sheet are the names and addresses of the current Division Secretaries. Two new divisions, Philosophical, and Physiological and Comparative, were approved by the Council of Representatives in September 1962. These new divisions do not have officers yet, but a name is given of a person from whom information may be obtained. It is necessary to write directly to the division for application blanks and for information on specific requirements. Deadlines and requirements vary among the divisions. Each division has the right to establish its own requirements for membership, so long as those requirements are not lower than those set for APA as a whole. Divisions may also restrict their classes of membership. Information about the requirements and classes may be summarized as follows:

APA requirements only	Divisions
Member	1, 5, 8, 9, 10, 18, 20, 22, 24
Associate	1, 8, 9, 10, 18, 20, 22, 24
Special requirements
Fellow	All divisions
Member	2, 3, 6, 7, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 19, 21, 23
Associate	2, 7, 14, 15, 16, 17, 19, 21
No class of Associate	3, 5, 6, 12, 13, 23

(The expression "APA requirements only" means that election as an Associate or Member is based on meeting general APA requirements, and applying to the division. Most of the divisions have additional requirements. Where there are additional requirements, it is to be assumed that the APA requirements must also be met.)

State Association Membership. In its 1961 Annual Report, and again in 1962, the Policy and Planning Board has emphasized the importance of membership in state psychological associations. The minutes of the 1961 meeting of the Council of Representatives show the following action: "Council endorsed the Policy and Planning Board statement that all psychologists be encouraged to join their state associations. These associations are becoming increasingly important in local and national affairs, and it is important, therefore, that they be representative of psychology and psychologists."

There is an affiliated association in every state except Alaska, plus associations in the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Province of Ontario. In the typical case, joining the association is a simple process for any member of the APA. Information may be obtained easily, by writing the secretary of your affiliated association. A list of the names and addresses of the secretaries is enclosed.
