Dear Dick,

These last few weeks have been overwhelming, as I tried to complete a number of reports for the ACNP Meetings. I do not know if you plan to be there, but if you are, then this letter will be redone. If not, perhaps it answers some of the questions you recently posed.

In general the Program Committee of the Society of Biological Psychiatry wishes the abstract to be short so that it can be published. The abstract which you sent me is quite satisfactory and I think you ought to send it in.

I will call you later in the week, as soon as this hectic period is over, to discuss with you the status of our project.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
