

September 12, 1966

Dr. Leonard Gold
Department of Psychiatry
Metropolitan Hospital
New York, New York

Dear Dr. Gold:

Thank you for inviting me to give some lectures to the Junior year students. As far as I know, April 12 and May 9 are probably satisfactory. But as you know, there are national meetings which occasionally interfere and I may have to get in touch with you.

With regard to somatic therapies, I would hesitate to suggest that the students read one of the text books like Kalinowsky and Hoch, rather, I am enclosing a reprint of an earlier work of mine which will give the students an appreciation of the content of my lecture and my point of view. If possible, copies of this should be sent to the students a few days before the lecture.

With regard to the lecture on dreams and sleep, I would suggest the students become acquainted with one of the recent more popular descriptions of sleep by Luce and Siegel or Foulks.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry

MF:kp