Mr. Phil Stone
Department of Social Relation
Harvard University
Cambridge 38, Mass.

Dear Phil:

It was a pleasure to meet you and discuss the various linguistic programs under investigation at Harvard. In many ways I envied Joe for the opportunity that he has in working in such a stimulating environment. I have found the programs at Washington University to be original and broadly based, but I am now in the process of developing a laboratory of my own. We are anxious to stimulate studies in linguistics. Washington's IBM 7072 and 1401 are available to us, and my own lab will be equipped with 40K-1620 with five million digit discpack storage.

I am enclosing a copy of the brochure which Joe recommended to you.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
Director
