Dear Costas,

I had delayed paying the consultation requests as the Association was over-extended in its advances, and the NIMH had withheld payments until the accounts had been verified. I was assured of payment today and am sending the enclosed as advances on your requests.

We have not yet heard from Washington.

The computer programs have been put on tape for you and I have been told that there are documentation notes that will be written for your staff. As soon as these are delivered, I will send them on to you.

Dornbush and Volavka are continuing their analyses of the EEG and behavior data. Today, they assured me that these would be complete by next week.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.

P.S. We are still trying to get an export license. Last week I was called by the U.S. BNDD and told that my facility at Stony Brook would have to be examined by New York State inspectors, to assure the government that our facilities for the handling of dangerous drugs were 'secure'. We were examined on Thursday and I hope that this means that a permit will soon be issued.
