Dear Jerry,

Enclosed are draft copies of recently completed reports on the antidepressant qualities of cyclazocine. Were it not for the neurophysiologic data I would hesitate to report such uncontrolled studies. Perhaps the studies now in progress may confirm the view and lend some additional support for the EEG-behavioral association model.

Incidentally, many thanks for the THC. We will begin the study after the summer recess. I am also pleased to tell you that naloxone is again in supply and the clinical studies are again in progress.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
