Dear Lorraine:

It gives me great pleasure to send you a copy of the bibliography which has finally been published. What started out as a small endeavor on our part grew, and grew, and at times I had the feeling that it was going to overwhelm me. However, it looks good, and I hope that it is accurate.

With the development of the Clearinghouse, such efforts should become increasingly easy in the years to come and I wonder what students ten years from now will think of those of us who devoted so many many hours to the successful production of such a bibliography! They will have it so easy, will they not?

Congratulations on your excellent efforts.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
