

August 11, 1976

Alfred M. Freedman, M.D.
New York Medical College
New York City

Dear Al,

I have just read the report by J. Fishman, "Preparation and Evaluation of a Sustained Naloxone Delivery System in Rats" which appeared in the journal Pharmacology 13:513-519, 1975. It is excellent and suggests that a long acting formulation of naloxone is feasible. I commend the article to you.

We have sold the house in Setauket and returned from a long trip through Great Britain (for a nation with such beautiful countryside and exciting heritage, why can they not learn to cook food tastefully ??). We're busy with college preparations for the last of my children and anticipate with some optimism the next year at SUNY.

My regards to Marcia and Irv.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.