Dear Dr. Castellanos:

It was kind of you to invite my attendance in the seminar in Mexico City. The meetings were well organized and most stimulating - and I am most grateful for the opportunity to participate.

My daughters thoroughly enjoyed their visit to your beautiful city - and on this score, in addition, I am in your debt. They will long remember their impressions of the historical evidences of your culture and history and your great hospitality. I am sure they will share their most favorable impressions with their classmates and friends.

I look forward to your visit to New York, and the opportunity to reciprocate.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
