

October 18, 1963

Charles Shagass, M. D.
Professor of Psychiatry
State University of Iowa
State Psychopathic Hospital
500 Newton Road
Iowa City, Iowa

Dear Charles,

Turan and I have just run a trial with the Textronix 122, and as you have indicated, the response of this amplifier is different and I trust better than the Grass amplifiers.

We would like to build a stimulating circuit which would give us constant calibration, similar to yours. I do not recall the name that you mentioned of the engineer to whom I should write for the schematics. Could you ask him to send me either the reference or a copy of the schematics? Or send me his name and I will call him directly.

My best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M. D.
Director

MF:mlg