Dear Burt,

I was grateful for the opportunity to discuss my program "EEG and Human Psychopharmacology" with you in Washington. It gives me great pleasure to send you copies of three reports which recently have been completed which demonstrate the extent of our work on this program. The largest is a monographic review and gives the technical programs for computer analysis. The IBM Symposium report tells of some of the applications. Dr. Itil's review of delirium shows the use to which frequency analyzer methods have been put in our study program.

I hope that these examples are helpful.

Sincerely yours,

Max Fink, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry
